A TRUCE

Said To Have Been Arranged Between Turkey and Greece.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

The Royal Palace Stopped by an Infuriated Mob.

KING WILL PROBABLY ABDICATE.

New York, April 29.—Dispatches from Athens say that a truce has been patched up between Turkey and Greece, but that the unrest at the capital still continues. The mobs in the streets are very disorderly and it is believed the King's life is in grave danger.

Athens, April 28.—Public excitement is increasing every hour. The foreigners are hoisting their national flags over the buildings inhabited by them. A popular outbreak is feared. Crowds stoned the palace, broke its windows and cried, "Down with the King; down with Prince Constantine; give us a republic."

Some pistols were fired among the rioters and many officers were mobbed.

The opposition deputies have issued an address to the people in which they urge quiet and good order as necessary not only for the safety of the people but for that of the country itself.

The British minister here, E. H. Egerton, paid a long visit to the King yesterday, and the newspapers connect the incident with the possible intervention of Great Britain in the war between Turkey and Greece. The report that the King was compelled to sign a decree recalling Prince Constantine from the front is unfounded. The Crown Prince will remain at the head of the army.

Dynastic Crisis Feared.
Paris, April 29.—The "Matin" declares that the suppression of Prince Constantine, if made by royal decree, is equivalent to his renunciation of his rights to the crown.

Continuing, the "Matin" asserts that the replacing of the premier, M. Delannoy, by M. Kalli, the Opposition leader, will not serve to arrest the course of popular indignation against the royal family, adding that it precedes a dynastic crisis by a few days.

King George is credited with desiring to abdicate in favor of his second son, Prince George.

The French newspapers urge the Powers to intervene between Turkey and Greece, especially as the fate of Greek dynasty is now involved and as Turkey has every reason to be satisfied with her victories, while Greece must accept the inevitable.

A CRUEL COMMANDER

Murders Seventy Inmates of a Cuban Hospital.

Havana, via Key West, April 29.—Commander Carlos Garcia, of the Spanish army, was badly defeated at El Estero, near Trinidad, where with the Soria battalion he tried to attack the insurgents. While retreating the Spanish commander found out that near by the insurgents had a hospital, and he gave orders to attack the place. There were about seventy persons in the hospital, among them children and women, and they were hacked to pieces. The Spanish report of this attack states that the insurgent forces made a stubborn resistance and that the loyal forces gained a great victory, killing about sixty insurgents.

The rainy season has commenced with all its force. It has been raining very heavily for several days, causing much sickness among the Spanish soldiers, who are dying of yellow fever. The number of cases increases every day.

Weyler has sent to Spain several officers of the army with grave charges of aiding the insurgents. He discovered that the officers exchanged ammunition and arms for cattle and money with a well known Cuban leader of Santa Clara province.

Spaniards at Havana have called to Madrid that if the exportation of tobacco continues an uprising of the working people will take place at Havana.

At Bieja Bermuda, a small town in Havana province, so large is the number of people that the Spanish forces have concentrated there that most of them are dying of hunger. While the soldiers were eating a large number of women attacked them for food for their children and themselves. Many of them had been wounded by the troops.

Weyler Returns to Havana.
Havana, April 27.—Capt. Gen. Weyler has arrived here. He left Santa Clara on Sunday with his staff.

CITY TOLL HOUSE

Burned By Raiders at Lancaster—Murder Threatened.

FREE ROADS.

Fiscal Court Purchased the Gravel Turnpikes.

$43,000 THE PRICE PAID.

Not a Dissenting Voice—First Road to Be Opened Saturday.

LET THERE BE GREAT REJOICING

McCracken county has free gravel roads.

Fiscal court met this forenoon at 9 o'clock at the county court house in called session, County Judge Tully presiding, and purchased the gravel roads of McCracken county.

All the magistrates, J. S. Gauster, J. H. Little, J. P. Winchester, D. J. Settle, R. S. Barnett, W. A. H. Dunaway, H. C. Hartley and H. Anderson, were in attendance. There were several citizens and gravel road directors present as spectators.

The purpose of the meeting was stated in the call, and the court proceeded at once to business.

The matter was thoroughly discussed, and the proposition of the city council, together with the ordinance, was read, and the court accepted the proposition.

Resolutions were read from the four gravel road companies, agreeing to dispose of their stock; the Paducah and Lovelaceville for 50 cents on the dollar; Paducah and North Ballard for 50 cents on the dollar; Paducah and Clark's River for 40 cents on the dollar, and Paducah and Mayfield for 35 cents on the dollar.

The entire cost of all the turnpikes in the county was $43,000.

The Clark's River Gravel Road Company wanted to withhold the property on which the toll gate now stands, but the court induced them to concede this also.

It was then voted to purchase the roads at the above cited cost, and to open them as soon as the deeds to the county are duly acknowledged.

Cash will be paid, and tomorrow $10,000 will be paid and the present intention is to throw open the Cairo road for free passage on Saturday, May 1.

County Judge Tully stated to a Six reporter this afternoon that it would be but two or three days until all the money has been paid over to the stockholders of the respective roads, the deeds have been acknowledged and the roads thrown open for free traffic.

This afternoon the board left Legal road in carriages for the Hinkleyville road to witness the operation of two new road machines.

A WALL OF WATER

Eight Feet High and a Mile Wide

SWEEPS ALL BEFORE IT.

A Cloudburst Carries Death and Destruction in Oklahoma.

AT LEAST TWO HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

Guthrie, Ok., April 29.—For miles last night the Canadian valley was a dreary waste, and her people are overcast with gloom. At sunrise yesterday morning a mighty wall of water from six to eight feet high and a mile wide, broke upon West Guthrie without warning, crushing houses, sweeping away property and drowning people by the score. Every movable thing was swept before the wave, which passed on into the valley with resistless force, wreaking terrible destruction to life and property wherever it reached. Dozens of human lives are known to have been sacrificed; how many may not be known for weeks; hundreds of houses were wrecked; for miles farms were completely ruined, bridges and tracks were washed out, and railway traffic in every direction is at a standstill. The most complete chaos prevailed all day.

When darkness settled over the city the wildest stories were afloat. Many were claiming that fifty lives had been lost, and not infrequently men were heard claiming that fully 200 had perished. These estimates were thought by the more conservative to be exaggerated, but later reports leave no doubt the larger estimate is not too great. Lives were lost in every direction in plain view of the few who were heroically carrying on the work of rescue and of the many who stood helplessly at the edge of the raging waters. Men, women and children struggled in the torrent side by side with horses, cattle and swine, one perishing here, another there, and in other places several disappearing together beneath the flood.

The flood is supposed to have been caused by a cloudburst, supplemented by heavy rains.

The Cottonwood river, ordinarily a small stream that winds between steep banks in West Guthrie, was bank full from a heavy rain yesterday and last night, but no alarm had been felt, as the river had been rising gradually during the night. About 6 o'clock, however, waters from a cloudburst above had added to those already nearly up to the level of the high banks, and the flood was sweeping through West Guthrie, a section populated mostly by colored people.

Persons who saw the first wall of water said that it was about eighteen feet high, spreading entirely across the valley. There was no water in front of it save that in the river's channel. The first wave was followed by others in quick succession, until the whole settled into a bank of water from six to eight feet high. Many had already begun carrying their household goods to places of safety, but few had made more than one trip when they were forced to flee for their lives before a raging, resistless torrent that no power of man could hope to stay. The main supply pipe of the water works system burst where it crossed the Cottonwood, in the southern part of the city, and all the water in the reservoirs poured into the river.

THE PERIL NOT PAST.

New Orleans May Expect Another Foot—A Break Below the City.

A special dispatch to the "Globe-Democrat" indicates that the peril of New Orleans is by no means past. It says the river gauge Tuesday evening indicated 19.3 above low water and still rising. There were no extraneous causes to produce this stage, and it looks as if the flood crest was within hailing distance of the city. Old steamboatmen who know the river practically and engineers theoretically look for a foot more of water. Unless there is a break in some of the neighboring parishes sufficiently large to relieve the strain, it seems probable the gravest apprehension will be realized.

Early this morning a break occurred in the levee on the Melrose farm, thirty-nine miles below the city. The place was formerly part of a large sugar plantation, but in recent years had been devoted to the cultivation of rice and truck farming. It is owned and managed by a Swedish family. The levee was regarded as comparatively safe. Most of the material at the levee boards disposal has been used to strengthen the levee, and consequently there were practically no means at hand of closing the break. By daylight the break had widened to forty feet, and as the ends sloughed off rapidly this width was more than doubled by noon.

Supt. Landry, of the New Orleans, Fort Jackson and Grand Isle Railroad, whose tracks parallel the river at Melrose, collected a force of men and a quantity of material and started for the scene at once on a special train. Reports received at the company's office here indicate that his work at the break has been very successful.

The most active place along the levees near New Orleans is in St. Bernard Parish. The levees are very weak, and all possible haste is being made to get them in as strong a condition as possible before the expected rise occurs.

HOO HOOS OUT.

Ten Kittens Turned Into Cats Last Night.

Prominent Railroad Men Initiated Into the Order.

The concatenation of Hoo Hoos at Elk's hall last night was a howling success, and ten "kittens" were transformed into cats.

Those who were initiated are: Supt. W. J. Harahan, Trainmaster J. J. Flynn and Agent E. C. Stovall, of the Illinois Central; City Passenger Agent Frank Teachout and Conductor J. H. Kirkland, of the N. C. & St. L.; Jas. E. Robertson, of the "News," Jas. Clements, A. W. Grief and Geo. O. Hart, mill and hardware men of the city, and a lumberman named Russell, of St. Louis.

After the ceremonies the crowd repaired to the Palmer House, where a banquet was enjoyed.

Some of the prominent Hoo Hoos who attended were: R. M. Cunningham, of Louisville, Vice Grand Snark; Traveling Passenger Agent R. O. Bear, of Nashville; Commercial Agent Wm. Smith, of Nashville, and H. R. Pearce, of Louisville.

GOSLIN TWINS.

Woman of the South Side Possesses a Wonderful Freak.

It is a Live, Healthy Goslin With Two Bodies and Four Feet.

Mat Buckner, a colored woman residing on South Tenth street near Chamblin's brick yard, is the proud possessor of a wonderful freak, the counterpart of which has probably never been seen. It is a gosling two weeks old, and to all appearances as strong and robust as any of the others, with two fully developed bodies and four feet. Only one head and neck goes with this double assortment of anatomy, and the infantile goose has become the wonder of the neighborhood. It has been viewed by scores of people, and the woman will not part with it for large sums that have already been offered her.

"FIRST NIGHTERS."

La Belle Opens for the Season This Evening.

"The Captain's Mate" Will Be Presented by the Stock Company.

La Belle Park, the seating capacity of which has been increased 300 or more, will be opened for the season tonight.

The theater, under the management of Mr. Alphonso Phillips and wife, Agnes Carleton Phillips, will be more extensively patronized this year than last, and amusement lovers are promised greater inducements than ever before.

The park has been greatly benefited, and a pretty lake and a "chute" will be added to the attractions.

Tonight "The Captain's Mate" will be presented.

"WHO, ME?"

An Amusing Police Court Prisoner.

CREATES MIRTH FOR MANY.

He Got Thirty Days on the Streets For Vagrancy.

FEW OTHER CASES CONSIDERED.

George Trice and Tandy Reeves, colored, were in the police court this forenoon charged with vagrancy. They were recognized yesterday for their appearance this morning, and strange to say, came back.

Trice was called before the bar of justice and asked to give a detailed account of the manual labor he had performed within the past six months.

"Now, tell the court where you have worked," said Prosecuting Attorney Reeves.

"Who? me?" asked the darkey, as if he thought somebody else was alluded to. He did this probably as a dilatory measure, to provide time for inventing plausible answers.

"Yes, you," sharply returned the court: "do you think I'm talking to somebody in the street?"

"What's I waked?"

"Yes, that's what you were asked."

"I've waked lots o' places, I has."

"Well, name a few of them?"

"Name a few o' 'em?"

"Yes, name a few of them—name one o' them?"

"Who, me?"

"Yes, you," more severely demanded the court.

The prisoner scratched his head and let his fickle memory glide back six months or more. He then named two places. He earned 50 cents at one place and 75 cents at the other—a vast amount of wealth for a man to have in six months!

"How old are you?" asked the court in disgust.

"Who, me?"

"Yes, you."

The spectators began to titter.

"How ol' is I?"

"Yes, now old are you?"

"Twenty-two."

"Where do you live?"

"What does I live?"

"Why don't you answer my questions without repeating them. Can't you hear?"

"Who, me?"—suddenly remembering—"Yes, I kin hear."

"Well why don't you do it?"

"Why don't I do it?" This time the laughter grew louder.

"Where do you live?" reverted to the court to the original question, with unmistakable signs of exasperation.

"Me?"

"No," sarcastically, "some lady out there in the hall,—anybody—not you!"

"I lives with my dad-ly."

"Where?"

"What at?"

"No, leave the 'at' off."

"Leab it off?"

"Now answer this question: Where do you live?"

"What does I live,—let's see—I libs on Ha'sson street 'tween Thirteenth and fourteenth."

"Does your father take care of you?"

"Does he tek ca' ob me?" Uncontrollable laughter.

"Does he feed and clothe you?"

"Who, me?"

"No, your little brother, of course."

"Now, he don't feed me—when I ain't at home."

The court then passed sentence on the prisoner, bestowing on him a job calling for thirty days' time on the chain gang. Trice heard this with the slightest difficulty, and rising to his feet began arguing the case.

The court attempted to stop him, but couldn't do it. Lockup keeper Kellar was ordered to take him down to the lockup forthwith and keep a ball and chain to him. He had to almost drag him out, and Trice still had his head in the door arguing with the court when he was dragged away, still holding to the door to get in another word, to the bustle below.

Tandy Reeves, colored, was given a similar sentence for a similar offense. He admitted that he didn't know of but $3 he had earned in six months. Judge Sanders said this morning that he intended to break up idleness in Paducah, if sentences on the chain gang will do it.

Squire Ford, colored, also charged with vagrancy, showed that he owned a shoe shop, and was released.

The case against Thomas Griffin, charged with engaging in a fight with Pete Griffin, was settled today. A judgment for $3 and costs, instead of $5 and costs, was assessed.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The SUN is authorized to announce as a candidate for Constable for the First District of McCracken County, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Its a pity about those "politicians hereabouts."

MR. BLACKBURN saw himself slaughtered and took his departure. He was considerate.

The street sprinkling should be in charge of the city authorities and the sprinkling district should be prescribed by the city.

AFTER all Kentucky's new Senator will be in his seat in time to count one in behalf of the Dingley bill on the first vote that shall be taken after its presentation to the Senate. This will give increased confidence to the Republican side.

The interest taken by our contemporaries in the conduct of the SUN's editorial columns is indeed flattering, but there is a man over here, gentleman, who considers himself amply qualified to supervise them without your assistance.

KENTUCKY sends a Republican to the United States Senate from the Gibraltar district of the Democracy. Let Oregon do as well and the Senate may not be obliged to yield every thing to the Democratic members to placate them and prevent their talking to death Republican measures.

It is certainly a dark hour of Greece. Her troubles have enlisted the sympathies of the world and it is with a pang of regret that it sees the arms that should be raised against an invading enemy, threatening the government, which, by surely doing all that lies in its power to preserve the honor and integrity of the country.

In all communications or articles of any kind intended for the SUN the writers will remember that the editor of the SUN weighs considerably over two hundred pounds and that he insists on being allowed the exclusive use of the editorial "we" and "our," they will confer a favor and save a sometimes ruthless mutilation of their articles.

SENATOR DEBOE's letter to Poor from which it was sought by the Democrats to prove that he was a silvite amounted to nothing. The inference they sought to draw from the Senator's words is by no means a necessary one. The chagrin exhibited by the Democracy over the result of the election is all that is necessary to show that they do not feel that they have a silvite Senator.

Is an epidemic of large proportions does not follow the floods in the South the people will be fortunate. Crowded together, are thousands upon thousands of the refugees in the vicinity of Vicksburg, Memphis and other points. The conditions for breeding disease are not by any means absent. Then with the subsidence of the flood there will be an atmosphere laden with every manner of poison that can emanate from decaying animal and vegetable matter. The conditions will surely favor a virulent epidemic.

The street car bills which have been pending before the Illinois legislature for some days, and which have caused such an uncommon agitation in that state, had fair to be the occasion for an investigation that may reveal more about the business of the companies than they desire the public to know. The Cook County Republican committee has recommended that a committee be appointed by the legislature to make a thorough investigation into the workings and the profits of these companies.

BALKS AT REPUDIATION.

The information thus obtained to be available in future dealings with them and future legislation with reference to them. The press of the state is taking up the matter with approving comments and the likelihood is the suggestion will be acted on. It will most likely result in some things which will not prove the most pleasant for the companies. A reduction of fares is one of the most probable outcomes.

If the three factories of which we are assured by Mr. Hardebeck shall locate here without delay Paducah will certainly experience during the summer a revival of business which will cause her to forget the trouble through which she has passed. There will be no class of labor, skilled or unskilled, which will not feel the effects of the additions to her industrial forces; no line of business that will not be improved. The plethora of labor in every line will be relieved and with the contemplated public improvements all labor will find remunerative employment. We need not stop with these three factories; others are contemplated and some are in a fair way to be located. Let no stone remain unturned that will aid in their establishment. If local capital is needed it should be invested in a spirit of liberality and it will be returned in a thousand ways in improved business and enhancement of values, while increased stability and permanence will be given values of real estate.

The election of W. J. Deboe, a Republican, to the United States Senate from the Gibraltar of the Democracy is an achievement which sets the Democrats to thinking that the unexpected sometimes happens in these days in old Kentucky. Mr. Deboe is a man of ability, who has barely reached his prime, and has an opportunity to prove himself a much larger man than the Democracy is ready to concede. The fact that he was able to command every vote cast by the Republicans, after the long and heated contest through which the legislature has just passed, is an evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by the men with whom he has been associated while a member of the state Senate. It is seldom the state legislature consents to the election of one of its own members to this high office. That Senator Deboe is a thoroughly honest and honorable man, a man of exemplary habits and character above reproach, is universally conceded; as to his ability, which our Democratic friends are so free to question, we opine he will prove himself the superior of the gentleman whom he succeeds, while as to his character and standing in all other respects he is infinitely superior. Kentucky will not be made to blush by Senator Deboe as she has done for Senator Blackburn. Mr. Deboe has not been in a position that called for or gave an opportunity to prove superior ability. He has acquitted himself well in all places and positions to which he has been called, and we believe will do so in his new and elevated station. The men who have been in a position to know him best are the men who have elevated him to the highest position in their gift, and the chances are he will not be found wanting in the ability or disposition to perform its duties acceptably. We extend our hand to the new Republican Senator with our compliments.

SOME of the Democratic papers are wanting to know how the Dingley bill when it becomes a law can increase the revenue, because "a tariff that is so high as to prohibit importations must necessarily reduce revenue." It is claimed that the Dingley bill will do nothing but "increase prices and lessen consumption, while reducing the revenue." Just such predictions were made about the McKinley law. It was to do nobody good, but everybody harm by increasing prices. It was to keep out foreign goods and reduce the revenues. What did it do? It revived industries all over the country; new factories were built to employ large numbers; new industries not heretofore known in this country, were established and millions of capital invested and thousands employed. Prices were not materially increased to the consumer in any line; in most cases they were maintained at the old rates except where when increased demand led to a stiffening of prices. As to the foreign trade, against which, according to the Democracy, we had reared a Chinese wall which would not only keep out foreign goods but keep in our own goods, the results not less signally failed to verify the predictions of these false prophets. We imported enough largely to increase the revenues; we exported more than ever before in our own history, and the balance of trade in our favor was accordingly the largest in our history. In short, every prediction made by the Democracy had signally failed of verification. But the false prophets had got in their work on the credulous voters. Before they were able to see the effect of the law they had allowed themselves to be led into a repudiation of the party that passed it, on the baseless predictions and assertions of the Democratic Politicians. They have mourned in sackcloth and ashes since, while the Wilson law sapped the life blood of the country's industrial system. They have learned by years of misery, of financial depression, of every kind of business trouble, not only that the Democratic theories of tariffs and their effect on the country do not prove themselves correct in practice, but that Democratic predictions relative to Republican tariffs are not reliable. They have followed "Wolf" once too often. They will not this time frighten anybody. The Dingley law will have a fair trial. It will prove itself a benefactor to the people before the Democracy has an opportunity to repeat it as they did the McKinley law.

THE AIR-SHIP STEALS.

An Incredible Story From Kansas Well Vouched For.

A Prominent Farmer Sees It Carry Off His Heifer.

Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat.

Topeka, Kan., April 26.—Millions have laughed at the Kansas airship, but the thing is no joke to Farmer Alexander Hamilton, who resides near Yates Center, Woodson county. The airship not only appeared in plain view of Hamilton and his family, and frightened them out of their wits, but the captain of the vessel had the nerve to swoop down upon the cow lot and steal a 2-year-old heifer. At any rate, that is what Hamilton says, and a dozen well known citizens, including State Oil Inspector E. V. Wharton, Sheriff M. E. Hunt and Banker H. H. Winter, testify that Hamilton's reputation for truth and veracity has never been questioned.

Hamilton claims that the air ship visited his place a week ago tonight. He told the country people about it, but the report did not reach Yates Center till Saturday. "Last Monday night about 10:30 o'clock," Hamilton said, "we were awakened by a noise among the cattle. I rose, thinking perhaps my building was upon going to the door saw to my utter astonishment an air ship slowly descending over my cow lot, about forty rods from the house. Calling Gid Hieslip, my tenant, and my son Wall, we seized some axes and ran to the corral. Meantime the ship had been gently descending until it was not more than thirty feet above the ground, and we came to within fifty yards of it. It consisted of a great cigar-shaped portion, possibly 300 feet long, with a carriage underneath. The carriage was made of panels of glass or other transparent substance, alternating with a narrow strip of some material. It was brilliantly lighted within and everything was clearly visible. There were three lights, one light an immense searchlight and two smaller, one red and the other green. The large one was susceptible of being turned in any direction. It was occupied by six of the strangest beings I ever saw. There were two men, a woman and three children. They were jabbering together, but we could not understand a syllable they said.

"Every part of the vessel which was not transparent was of a dark reddish color. We stood mute in wonder and fright, when some noise attracted their attention and they turned their light directly upon us. Immediately after catching sight of us they turned on some unknown power, and a great turbine wheel, about 50 feet in diameter, which was slowly revolving below the craft, began to buzz, sounding precisely like the cylinder of a separator, and the vessel arose as lightly as a bird. When about 300 feet above us it seemed to pause and hover directly over a 2-year-old heifer, which was bawling and jumping, apparently fastened in the fence. Going to her, we found a cable about half an inch in thickness, made of the same red material, fastened to a ship knot around her neck, one end passing up to the vessel, and the heifer tangled in the wire fence. We tried to get it off, but could not, so we cut the wire loose and stood in amazement to see the ship, heifer and all rise slowly disappearing in the northwest. We went home, but I was so frightened I could not sleep. Rising early Tuesday morning, I mounted my horse and started out, hoping to find some trace of my cow. This I failed to do, but coming back to Leroy in the evening found that Link Thomas, who lives in Coffey county, about three or four miles west of Leroy, had found the hide, legs and head in his field that day. He, thinking someone had butchered a stolen beast and thrown the hide away, had brought it to town for identification, but was greatly mystified at not being able to find any tracks in the soft ground. After identifying the hide by my brand, I went home, but every time I would drop to sleep I would see the cursed thing, with its big lights and hideous people. I don't know whether they are devils or angels, or what; but we all saw them, and my whole family saw the ship, and I don't want any more to do with them."

The Yates Center "Advocate" said that Hamilton looked as if he had not recovered from the shock, and every one who heard him was convinced that he was sincere in every word he uttered. Hamilton has long been a resident of Kansas and is known all over Woodson, Allen, Coffey and Anderson counties. He was a member of the House of Representatives early in the 70s. He staked his sacred honor upon the truthfulness of the story.

NECESSARY AFFIDAVIT.

The following affidavit is given in support of Hamilton's reputation as a truthful man:
(Affidavit—State of Kansas, county of Woodson—ss.) As there are now, always have been and always will be skeptics and unbelievers whenever the truth of anything bordering upon the improbable is presented, and knowing that some ignorant or suspicious people will doubt the truthfulness of the above statement, now, therefore, we, the undersigned, do hereby make the following affidavit: That we have known Alexander Hamilton from one to thirty years, and that for truth and veracity we have never heard his word questioned, and that we do verily believe his statement to be true and correct.

"E. V. Wharton, state oil inspector; M. E. Hunt, Sheriff; W. Lauber, deputy sheriff; H. H. Winter, banker; H. S. Johnson, pharmacist; J. H. Stutcher, attorney; Alexander Stewart, justice of the peace; H. Waymyer, druggist; F. W. Butts, druggist; James W. Martin, Registrar of Deeds; H. C. Rollins, postmaster."

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of April, 1897."
"W. C. WILLE, Notary Public."

was assassinated at Lyons the brigade had recently been disbanded, and hence the crime would have been rendered almost impossible. They were, of course, at once reorganized, and are now a more numerous body than ever.

The late ear, Alexander II., had several private guards, under the care of the minister of personal safety. Most of these working under their official uniforms, and were now a more numerous body than ever.

The present czar has three detective officers constantly in his train—two Russian and one English. He also has adopted means to defend himself. By always having with him a six-chambered revolver, in the use of which he is fairly proficient. In traveling it rests on the seat of the carriage by his side, ready for immediate use, and at night it is fixed in a receptacle by his bedside, so that he can at once reach it if required.—London Mail.

"Huckensack" The state of Arkansas claims to be the first in the south in the production of small fruits and apples, first in the union in quantity of nut timber, and in the union in coal, and second in the number of acres required to produce a standard bale of cotton—Louisiana being first, but only slightly in the lead.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The price of Wales is especially petted with these days. Since Marlborough house is particularly well guarded, there being military sentries at each entrance, in addition to the ordinary detectives and police. The special inspector who has charge of the arrangements for guarding the prince is generally a foreigner, or a Englishman who is well conversant with European languages and customs, as his royal highness travels so much abroad. It is imperative, therefore, that the inspector shall be able to keep in thorough touch with all continental police, and for this reason one who knows German, French and Russian is a necessity.

That soldiery is insufficient nowadays for the protection of royalty was proved by the incident at Leeds, when the royal duchess of York was visiting that city in 1904. A half-trained man managed to get through a squadron of lanciers, and reaching the carriage step, eluded them and opened the door. Despite the fact that a captain of the lanciers rode to the man, he was not discovered and secured till some policeman, had come to the soldier's aid.

The king of Italy is guarded by a single policeman, who is a sergeant major in the Carabinieri or gendarmarie. This is a corps of soldiers selected from the regular army, and the king's guard is the pick of these. He has to be from Piedmont, and hence is a regular devotee of the king, whose native country that is. He must also be of great stature and tried prowess. He accompanies his royal lord on all occasions during the day when his majesty leaves the palace, and at night he sleeps at the door of the room occupied by the king.

The Sultan of Turkey has always been extremely well guarded, but of late years even his royal highness has been ever about in constant fear of assassination. Private detectives constantly shadow his footsteps even in his own palace grounds, whilst a tremendous number of soldiers guard every possible entrance to the palace. He never leaves these private grounds unless absolutely obliged. Even in crossing from the palace to the mosque when he attends religious worship, the whole route, not more than 400 yards, is guarded by soldiers standing often seven deep, so as to provide against every possible contingency.

The French presidents are guarded by "Bleugne de l'Yveline," or "Presidential Police," who are magnificently organized and smart. When Carnot

SHOT AT A BOY.

Colored Man Warranted on a Grave charge.

Tom Turner, colored, of near Styles, was warranted yesterday afternoon before Justice Winchester on a charge of shooting at Frank Brigrum, a 13-year-old boy who was at work plowing in the field when the negro came up and demanded that he desist saying that it was such people who kept him and other men from getting employment.

He frightened the boy into the house and concealed himself until the boy returned, when he renewed his demands. The boy gave some curt reply and the darkey drew a pistol and shot at him. The boy stubbed his toe and fell, probably saving his life. The negro disappeared, and the boy and his father came in late yesterday afternoon and swore out the warrant.

No trace has yet been found of the fugitive.

SCHOOL TAX INJUNCTION.

Judge Breathitt Decides it Illegal.

Makes the Injunction Against Collecting it Perpetual.

Judge Breathitt, in the Murray circuit court yesterday decided that the school tax imposed a year or two since on the citizens of Marshall county for a supplementary school tax for school district No. 38, was illegal, and made the injunction restraining W. M. Oliver and others from collecting it perpetual.

The style of the suit was J. D. Peterson and others, representing the taxpayers, against W. M. Oliver and others, collectors of the school tax and trustees of district No. 38, and it was an injunction to prevent the collection of the tax. Judge James Campbell, of the city, brought the suit at Benton about a year ago, and the case was recently transferred to the Calloway circuit court, and decided by Judge Breathitt yesterday.

KNOCKED CRAZY.

An Ex-Penitentiary "Bird" Gets Into Trouble.

Hit in the Head With a Beer Bottle by Will Rogers.

Sam Dodd is the name of a colored boy who is just back from the reform school of Illinois. Dodd remained in jail here a year before he was released, and was sent to Pontiac from Cairo for stealing.

He came back Tuesday, attired in new habiliments, throughout, and today turned up at the city hall in the bottom of an express wagon with a bad wound on his head.

Dodd was at the wharf breaking beer bottles, when Will Rogers, who drives one of the beer wagons, attempted to make him desist. Failing he struck him on the left side of the head with a beer bottle, inflicting a bad wound.

When Dodd was brought to the city hall he did not know his own name, and was taken home by his mother still "out of his head."

Rogers surrendered at police headquarters and was recognized for his appearance.

A PERILOUS HEIGHT.

Small Boys Hauled Down From a Church Tower.

They Went Up After Young Pigeons at Grace Church.

Officer Crow was called to Grace Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. A resident of the vicinity informed him that several adventurous youths were up in the spire, and sure enough, the officer found that they could occasionally be seen gazing from the windows at a perilous height.

The officer attempted to call them, but they had ascended to such a dizzy altitude that his voice could not reach them. He was at first greatly puzzled, for life is too short, and time is too precious to be wasted in chasing a steeple like that. He finally secured the services of a colored boy, who climbed up and gave the boys the officer's order. They promptly began to emerge from the lower hatchway very cautiously, and one at a time. They had their pockets and shirts and hats filled with young pigeons.

A GRAND BLOW-OUT.

This is What They Will Have at Cairo Saturday.

Speaking of the game of baseball between the Paducah and Cairo clubs Saturday, the Cairo "Argus" says:

The opening of the baseball season is being made much of in all the cities this year, and Cairo is not to be behind. Preceding the opening game next Saturday, between the Cairo and the Paducah club, there is to be a grand street parade, which will embrace the mayor and council, the police force, the cadets, and the fire department and other organizations, the baseball rooters and cranks bringing up the rear in carriages, on horseback and on bicycles, the whole procession to be led by a brass band. Arriving at the grounds the game will be opened by the Mayor, who will pitch the ball to the umpire. In many cities of this class the business houses close during the afternoon of the opening parade day and all hands go to the grounds to witness the first game. Such a send-off here would be a nice recognition of the enterprise of Cairo's Baseball Association. There probably will be no loss of trade in closing from 2 to 5 p. m.

LOTS OF TOBACCO.

Five Hundred Wagon Loads Taken to Mayfield in One Day.

A Mayfield dispatch to the Louisville "Times" yesterday says:

About 500 loads of tobacco were brought in to the rehandlers, and all the stables and wagon yards are crowded with wagons waiting their turn to be unloaded. There was more tobacco brought here today than ever before in one day.

Bob Dunlap, the newly married porter who has been stopping off since his nuptials, resumes his duties today on Conductor Dugger's train.

"Con" Billy Lewis continues to go one day and come the next with long strings of loads on the locals. Ben Cullom and Charlie Hunt are his circular artists.

Engine 309 pulled out on passenger this a. m. and now all the thrall-pullers and dismount heavens-hoing on passenger runs are again on their regular days.

Dispatcher Billie Hills is crowing over his nephew Charlie that he beat him fishing yesterday. When asked how many he caught he said, "One." Charlie's catch is easily counted.

The boys who attended Engineer Joe Hobaeker's wedding yesterday state that he was the happiest looking man on earth, and stood their rally with the nonchalance of an old veteran.

Billy Baker, a whilom conductor on this road in the old P. T. & A. times, but now managing the circulation of the St. Louis "Republic" in this city, was around this morning grasping digits with old friends.

Saturday's Nashville "American" will be a souvenir edition. It will consist of sixty pages and be filled from the first to the last page with matter concerning the grand Centennial Exposition, which opens its gates on that day.

Camped under the shed of the iron furnace yesterday was a family consisting of father, mother and four daughters. They seem to be in a sorry plight and destitute of all comforts.

Sad to say the pater familias was as full as a dog tick in August.

Car repairer Sullivan—"John L." as the boys dub him—met with a painful accident yesterday while helping to turn a car on the table.

He stepped on a bunch of greasy waste lying on one of the ties and slipped, bruising his knee badly.

The fishing party who visited Alton Park yesterday under the care of Superintendent Hills met with meagre success in hooking the finny tribe that infest the muddy waters of the tortuous Clark's river, but were more than repaid for their journey in the pleasure they derived from a day's visit to the woods.

Section Foreman Dick Lucas was busy until 11 o'clock last night with his men unloading gravel into yawning pits on the river track, caused by the "cave in" during the recent high water.

The mills and factories up that way are crying aloud for car service, which will be given them as soon as repairs can be effected.

Mr. E. Landstreet, the "tourist" for the mammoth establishment of Towner & Co., of Memphis, is in the city, and registered at the Palmer.

Mr. Landstreet represents the largest concern of its kind in the south and which is excelled by only one other in the country, and that one in Baltimore.

Mr. Landstreet is one of the most genial and popular road agents that travel out of the "Bluff City," and is as popular at home as he is with his thousands of customers scattered over his territory. He is the second lieutenant of the famous "C. A." Confederate veterans of Memphis, and was with them at Chickamauga, Richmond, Atlanta and other places where they created such sensations by their excellence in drill and agility of movement, notwithstanding their advanced age. He called at the shanty to see "Mileage" last evening and until a late hour the time was spent most pleasantly in reviewing old reminiscences.

FATAL CUTTING AFFRAY.

Two Men Have a Fight at a Dance.

Young Forest Cut Over the Heart and Will Die.

A probable fatal cutting affray occurred at the home of Lee Shepherd, eight miles from the city on the Burnett Pryor farm, in the Clark's river neighborhood night before last.

There was a dance at Shepherd's house, and a man named Bradley, who came to the county from Benton recently, and a son of Sandy Forest, a well known farmer, engaged in a difficulty and Forest was cut in the breast, the knife penetrating the hollow and into the lungs. Young Forest was today reported as being in a dying condition. Bradley yesterday left for parts unknown, and no warrant has thus far been issued for his arrest.

A NEW CITIZEN.

Mr. Ernest Gibbs, of Madisonville, Removes to Paducah.

From the Madisonville Mail.

Ernest Gibbs left yesterday for Paducah, where he has accepted a good position as manager of Harding & Miller's branch store at that place.

Mr. Gibbs is a hustler, and cannot be beaten as a piano salesman. He is popular with the people, with whom he has the best reputation for square dealing and fair treatment. He goes to Paducah on a large salary, and we predict that he will give the best of satisfaction to his firm. His family will not go to Paducah for some time.

PUBLIC MEETING.

Of Public Spirited Citizens Tomorrow Night.

Mr. J. H. Hardebeck will have a meeting of citizens at the Palmer House tomorrow night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of laying his plans before them. More details will be given tomorrow.
